BHUBANESWARI TEMPLE

Bhubaneswari Temple is famous for its amazing architecture and located at an ideal location on the eastern fringe of Udaipur Town by the river bank of Gomati. Udaipur is known as the, "Temple City of Tripura". It is situated 55 km from the state capital of Tripura. To reach the Temple one has to cross the Gomati River. Bhubaneswari Temple is now under the control and supervision of the Archaeological Survey of India. Maharaja Govinda Manikya constructed the Temple in 1660-1676. While approaching Bhubaneswari Temple one also finds the ruins of the palace of Govinda Manikya. Near the Temple quietly flows the river Gomati offering a serene sight.

The Bhubaneswari Temple finds mention in two of the plays of Rabindranath Tagore titled 'Rajarshi' and 'Bisharjan'. The Temple was built on a 3 feet high paved terrace. The roof is fashioned in the typical four chaala-styles. It has stupa like crowns in the entrance and core chamber. The stupa on the core chamber is fashioned with floral motifs which attracts attention.
