Khumulwng Eco-Park

Khumulwng means the, 'valley of flower'. This Park realizes the meaning of the name in its true sense. This park has been created in the lap of Nature at Khumulwng, the HQ of TTAADC (Tripura Tribal Area Autonomous District Council) which is just 23 km away from the state capital Agartala and 2 km away from the National Highway 44. This park has become one of the best tourist spots in Tripura. The park comprises of many small parks like Science Park, medicinal park, boating, rocks garden, open stadium and children's park and Church etc. The increasing number of footfalls of visitors every year indicates its popularity and development. For special attraction of this park is toy train.

The Tribal Museum cum Heritage Centre is located at Khumulwng. The items that are preserved are mentioned below:

- Models of 19 tribes of Tribal Community.
- Transition of Tribal life over a period of time e.g looming to weaving traditional games, several stages of Jhum cultivation etc.
- Presentation of indigenous life.
- Transition from primitive stage to modern.
- Brief history of Tripura-transition from monarchy to democracy.
- Costumes of different tribes of Tripura e.g chelbara, Khutup, Dakmanda, Antekra, Ponjel, Rwso, Kenjel etc. and for women Poidari, Kanchili, Jooupaibor.
